 ASSOCIATION

DAY ONE - Wednesday, May 3, 2006

Morning Session - "STAIRS"

Addresses issues regarding stairs, handrails and guards, with a visual interpretation of the IRC 2000 stair requirements, to better understand stair dynamics and the code provisions that impact stair construction.

Presented by: Stair Manufacturers Association

Afternoon Session - "Concrete Mix Design & Troubleshooting"

This four-hour course is designed to give homebuilders and/or superintendents a working knowledge of concrete mix design, installation, and troubleshooting. Attendees will have the information they need to: decide when to use concrete for flatwork, paving, or exterior walls, work with concrete subcontractors effectively, specify products and supervise work to achieve high-quality, cost-effective results, and identify problems and know how to avoid and/or correct them.

Presented by: the Home Builders Institute

Sponsored by:

NORTHERN NEW ENGLAND
CONCRETE PROMOTION
ASSOCIATION

DAY TWO - Thursday, May 4, 2006

Code Concepts for Contractors & Code Officials

Focuses on the concepts of code compliance, and identifies different roles and responsibilities of code officials in the construction industry. Identifies various types of inspections and common compliance problems with techniques for effectively interacting with code officials.

Presented By: International Code Council

It is recommended that you bring a copy of the IRC 2000 code book.
